

LEGISLATION ON FARM CREDITS IS PROGRESSING

Capper Measure May Come to Vote in Senate Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Such progress was made by the senate today in consideration of farm credits legislation that managers predicted a vote tomorrow on the Capper bill, the first of the farm relief measures to be taken up.

The credit legislation pending in the form of two bills was taken up after the administration shipping bill with plans of Republican leaders had been laid aside temporarily by unanimous consent to make way for the farmers' measures. Although the senate made a slow start it went forward at accelerated speed and it was said to mean defeat of the Norris bill proposing a government corporation to buy and sell agricultural products.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, objecting to immediate consideration of the farm credits bills demanded that his bill which was reported several weeks before the credit legislation, be taken up first.

His motion was defeated, 53 to 19. Mr. Norris said the defeat meant the loss of his bill during the present congress. Ten Democrats and nine Republicans, the latter principally of the progressive wing—voted to give precedence to the Norris bill. Thirty-eight Republicans and fifteen Democrats opposed the Norris motion.

Speeches on the credit legislation were made today by Chairman McLean of the banking committee which reported the two credit bills, Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, chairman of the senate farm bloc, and Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama.

Injunction Dismissed In Soldier Bonus Suit

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 15.—The injunction suit brought to test the constitutionality of the Illinois bonus act was dismissed here tonight by Judge E. S. Smith in the Sangamon county circuit court. Judge Smith in refusing to grant the injunction, expressed doubt as to the constitutionality of the bonus act on the ground, he declared, that it seeks to pay persons for services already rendered.

The action of the court gives attorneys the right to appeal immediately to the supreme court. The last day for filing to the February term is Wednesday. Attorneys for the complainants announced they would be ready to file the appeal by Wednesday.

After arguments by Noah C. Baimum, representing the complainants in the friendly test suit, Assistant Attorney General Albert D. Rodenberg and Howard C. Knotts, commander of the local Legion post, for the defense, Judge Smith immediately rendered a verbal opinion in which he said he would refuse to hold the law unconstitutional but warned that the act appeared weak when confronted with the constitutional provision prohibiting payment of state funds for services already rendered.

"While I shall not rule that this act is unconstitutional or interfere with the service recognition board since this proceeding is designed principally to get the case into the supreme court, I warn you that this is a serious trouble with the act," Judge Smith said.

Arguing that expenditure of any money appropriated under provisions of the act is illegal because the law itself is unconstitutional, Baimum asked the court to restrain further activities of the service recognition board.

OFFICIALS ARE MYSTIFIED BY PARIS DISPATCH

Says Boyden Has Submitted
Reparations Settlement Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Dispatches from Paris today stating that Roland Boyden, American observer with the reparations commission had submitted a reparations settlement plan to the commission completely mystified officials here. The state department, in a statement, disclaimed all knowledge of the plan. Officials felt certain that there had been misunderstanding somewhere along the line. The prompt action of Secretary Hughes in authorizing a statement was believed to be due to the desire that it should be definitely understood that the Washington government had no connection with any project which had been laid before the reparations commission.

There was every indication that Mr. Boyden would be asked for such an explanation as would clear the matter up and show just what the proposition was he had in mind. In some quarters there was speculation as to whether the settlement plan Mr. Boyden referred to might not prove to be that which has been discussed in American and other business circles for an expert commission to study German capacity to make reparations payments. As this proposal reached the chamber of commerce of the United States from a similar organization in Germany it contemplated an unofficial American commission not related to the reparations commission or the various governments.

The one thing that apparently was made clear by the state department was that the project not only was not a renewal of the Hughes suggestion to the allied governments, but lacked official approval here and was not regarded as due to the initiative of the American government.

COURT REVERSES ACTION OF CORONER'S JURY

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Abe Klass, a chauffeur was held to the grand jury today on a charge of manslaughter, when Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court reversed the finding of the coroner's jury which had exonerated Klass of responsibility in the death of Miss Blanche Sommers who was struck by the automobile Klass was driving.

Judge Olson said that in his opinion no jurist could take the finding of a coroner's jury seriously. He held in this particular case that the witnesses who testified regarding the character of Klass as a driver were not competent to judge the speed of the automobile as 15 miles an hour.

Washington, Jan. 15.—A payment of $93,633 to the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad was authorized today by the interstate commerce commission to close out the government's obligations to the road under the war time federal control.

"The board has no warrant under the law to spend a cent of money and any of its acts in carrying out this law is illegal," Mr. Baimum contended. "If the supreme court holds this law invalid, as we contend it is, then the obligations incurred in preliminary work on the bonus and all the acts of the board are void and of no effect."

"To permit such obligations to be incurred without restraint would mean eventual bankruptcy for the state," he said.

Mr. Baimum's chief arguments were that the act seeks to pay persons for services already rendered and that the soldiers did not serve in the service of the United States. He also attacked the act on the ground that its title was defective.

Assistant Attorney General Rodenberg for the defense, contended that while the soldiers were called by the United States they were as much in the service of the state, protecting its integrity and defending its homes as they were in the service of the federal government. He declared the constitutional provision prohibiting extension of credit of the state to a corporation meant a private corporation. He denied that it referred to public obligations.

Adjutant General Carlos E. Black testified to the work already done by the bonus board. Louis Vogel, index clerk in the office of secretary of state, read from records showing the progress of the bonus act in the legislature.

Department Judge Advocate Harry Newby of Chicago, William McCauley, past commander of the Legion of Illinois, and Assistant Attorney General William Trautman and Clarence E. Board, also were in court.

DECLARES SOUTH BANK OF RIVER BOUNDARY LINE

U. S. Supreme Court Rules in Long Time Controversy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The south bank of the Red river, declared by the supreme court in an opinion handed down today, is the boundary line between the states of Texas and Oklahoma, was located today by that court in an opinion announced by Justice VanDevanter, Justice McReynolds dissenting.

The southerly cut bank as it existed in 1821 was declared by the majority opinion to be the boundary line between the United States and the Spanish possessions, and the court said it presumes that the cut bank as it exists today was the same except where it can be shown by competent evidence that there has been a change in its location in intervening years due to erosion, or accretion.

The decision was a compromise between the contentions of the United States and of Texas. There was no boundary dispute until the ownership of the bed of the Red river became an important controversy due to the discovery of oil. Oklahoma instituted original proceedings in the supreme court and the United States intervened, saying that the state was contesting the claim to the middle of the stream.

An opinion on April 13, 1921, the court held that the south bank of the stream was the boundary and the opinion today defined what should constitute that bank.

Texas contended that under the treaty with Spain the edge of the water at the normal stage of the river should be the bank. The Red river like others in the southwest, in time, has cut a gorge through which it flows, the walls of which are bluffs. The United States and Oklahoma asserted that these bluffs on the south side of the river should be held by the court as the bank to be marked as the boundary line.

Between the stream at low water mark during the ordinary stage in which it is found during most of the year and the bluffs on either side are what are known as cut banks.

These cut banks vary in distance from the edge of the water at its ordinary stage as do the bluffs. The cut banks are separated from the stream by sand plains, which in the opinion of the court today were held to be a part of the river bed.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 15.—Through the decision of the United States supreme court today Texas wins all the agricultural land and practically all of the valuable oil land involved in the Red river boundary controversy, Attorney General Walter Keeling stated after reading The Associated Press report from Washington.

NOW OCCUPY WHOLE RUHR BASIN

PARIS, Jan. 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—The French and Belgian troops now occupy the whole Ruhr basin and have reached the limits of that neutral zone 30 miles in depth in which the Germans are barred for having reichswehr or regular garrisons. The troops are at the gates of Dortmund where they were ordered to stop for the present.

In view of the progress and obstinacy of the German attitude it has been decided to extend the advance Tuesday, occupying Dortmund and establish troops in the northeast, east and southwest, completely commanding the important railroad junctions.

Southward the advance will extend to Elberfeld, which will not be occupied just now. The promptness with which the French are showing in countering each fresh measure of obstruction appears to be having its effect at least on the industrial magnates who at first were deceived by the polite conciliatory methods of the French and there are indications that they will not persist in their refusal to deliver their coal.

CONFUSION AND TERROR PREVAILS

Dublin, Jan. 15.—(By The A. P.)—Confusion and terror prevailed in the heart of the city tonight in consequence of much bombing and shooting. The royal barracks, headquarters of the Irish command, the Freeman's Journal and a garage occupied by national troops were among the places attacked but it is not known whether there were any casualties. An ambush in Grofton street is reported to have led to a number of casualties.

Charge Standard Oil Controls Gas Prices

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Control of oil prices pervasively gasoline by the Standard Oil group of companies was charged by representatives of independent oil concerns today at the senate oil investigation.

Appearing in the inquiry for the first time the independents one after another presented grievances against practices of the companies commonly described as belonging to the Standard group. L. V. Nicholas of Omaha, president of the National Petroleum Marketers' association, said that the Standard companies, not "only fix their own prices but the prices of the independents as well."

Similar charges were made by W. H. Gray of Tulsa, Oklahoma, president of the National Association of Independent Oil Producers who declared the Standard corporations thru control of the larger pipe lines and by reason of freight rates often discriminatory were able to fix prices without getting together in conference.

Complaints against the Standard companies were made by several other witnesses most of them representing independent concerns. The hearing of independents will be continued tomorrow with Harry F. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation, generally described as a semi-independent, listed to take the stand.

Critics Practices. Mr. Nicholas sharply criticized the practices of the Standard companies, declaring there was no independence in the oil industry and that independent concerns which failed to follow the lead of the Standard corporations were subjected to reprisals in the form of cuts in prices below costs. This statement was supported later by B. E. Swarthout, of the Webaco Oil company, an independent concern doing business in the vicinity of Rochester, N. Y., who said that after his company had cut below the charges charged by the Standard Oil company of New York, a representative of the later corporation informed Webaco officials that he had been authorized to reduce gasoline prices as low as 16 cents a gallon if necessary, to meet the cuts of the independent company.

Existing rates and regulations of the interstate commerce commission governing pipe lines were attacked by Mr. Gray.

Combination of the Gulf Oil corporation and the Standard Oil company of Indiana which has been reported in process of negotiation Mr. Gray said would be almost disastrous to the small independent producers in many fields where such a combination would reduce by half the buyers of crude oil. The acquisition by the Standard of Indiana of a half interest in the Mid-West Refining company and retirement of the standard from competition with the Mid-West in many fields, he said, had been beneficial as it compelled the independents to cease relying on either of the two big companies.

ONE IS KILLED IN CLASH WITH FRENCH TROOPS AT BOCHUM

Several Were Also Wounded During the Big Demonstration

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—A clash between German demonstrators and French troops occurred at the railway station at Bochum this evening. The French fired, killing one person and wounding several.

The incident followed political demonstrations on a big scale. Several thousand persons collected in front of the town hall where the French general had his quarters and cheered the German republic, then marched thru the streets. A number of young communists made a counter demonstration cheering the Third International and the French communist league.

The police were unable to handle the crowds and toward evening the French troops had to intervene. It was about 8 o'clock in the evening when they opened fire near the railway station.

TWO KLANSMEN ARE WITNESSES IN MER ROUGE MURDER CASE

Klan Feared Attack Because of Kidnap- ing of Five Men

(By The Associated Press)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 15.—New ground was opened today by state's attorneys in their task of unraveling the mystery surrounding the kidnapping and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richard, victims of blackhooded kidnapers. Statements of two members of the Ku Klux Klan put in the record a recital of an assembling of Klan in a store here in anticipation that Mer Rouge citizens might swoop down on Bastrop in retaliation.

James F. Harp and "Jap" Jones farmers of Bonita, village in the southern part of Morehouse parish, both members of the parish Klan organization, testified that after the kidnapping of Daniel, Richard and three other men on the er Rouge pike August 24, a dozen or more klansmen, gathered in a hardware store here, armed themselves and prepared for eventualities.

Both insisted that the Klan had no part in the kidnapping but that the gathering of the klansmen was deemed advisable as a precautionary measure in view of the intense feeling prevailing in the parish.

"Why did you klansmen wait up that night?" Harp was asked. "We heard the people of Mer Rouge had guns and a regular arsenal and we thought they might come over and blame the kidnapping on the Klan," he replied. "We knew they were mad and up in arms about the kidnapping of Richard and we thought we were a week before and we were afraid it would be laid at our feet."

"Were you armed?"

"Yes."

"Did you have your masks?"

"No."

Jones testified along much the same lines as Harp as to the gathering in the Bastrop store.

"It was a serious thing," Jones said. "We had discussed it and decided to be prepared."

"Did you believe it was the Klan who did the kidnapping?"

Jones was asked.

"No, but I did want to know who did," he answered.

Could Learn Nothing.

Jones told of making the rounds in Bastrop, trying to learn who might be responsible but without result. At no place, he declared could he find information as to who was the party of men who took part. The watch at the hardware store continued until midnight.

"Did you hear of any preparation made to kidnap Daniel and Richard?" Jones was asked.

"No—none."

"Did you attend any meeting in which the conduct of Richard and Daniel was discussed?" was another question.

"Yes, about six weeks prior to the kidnapping, we met in the court and Daniel and Richard were discussed but we decided to let them and other citizens alone. Then we had another meeting—an impromptu affair at which Dr. B. M. McKoin, Captain Skipwith and others were present. We talked over the attempted assassination of Dr. McKoin, Watt Daniels and others were blamed but particularly Watts."

Skipwith is the parish leader of the Klan. Dr. McKoin formerly was mayor of Mer Rouge and now charged in an affidavit with murder in connection with the deaths of Daniel and Richard.

Harp and Jones were the principal witnesses at the afternoon session of the hearing. They were preceded on the witness stand by F. L. Carpenter, parish sheriff; Gus Boyd, collision store keeper, from whom the blackhooded band purchased gasoline while holding the two kidnaped men prisoners; and a half a dozen other witnesses.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper company, announced today that, subject to the approval of shareholders, at a meeting February 26, the company had arranged to acquire the majority stock of the Chile Copper company.

It was announced that Anaconda stockholders had authorized issuance of $200,000,000 in first "unconsolidated" mortgage six percent sinking gold bonds and $50,000,000 in debenture bonds to handle the purchase. Half of the $200,000,000 issue will be offered for sale Wednesday by a syndicate headed by the National City company and the Guaranty company in what was said to be the largest single piece of industrial financing ever attempted.

London, Jan. 15.—German marks took a fresh slump today to the lowest figure on record in London, 55,000 to the pound sterling.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Charles Durehansky, returned here from San Diego, Cal., as a suspect in connection with the slaying of Terrence Lyons, a police lieutenant, and Thomas Clark, a patrolman, was held in jail here for further questioning. Continuous further yesterday failed to shake Durehansky's denial of any knowledge of the crime, police said.

FIND BODY OF BANDIT SHOT IN DENVER ROBBERY

Body Said to be That of J. C.
Sloan Found in Private
Garage

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 15.—The slain mint bandit was identified today as J. C. Sloan, Casper, Wyoming. Chief of Police Williams, announced he is one of the men the police have sought since Dec. 18, the day the bandits made away with $200,000 in currency from a federal reserve bank truck in front of the mint killing Charles T. Linton, a guard.

The bandit's frozen body with a bullet in the heart was found last night in a private garage. Officials declare the bandit was instantly killed by a bullet from the revolver of Pete Keidinger, a guard employed at the mint. At the time Sloan was standing on the running board of the bandit car shooting at the mint guards.

The dead man was the leader of the bandits.

Police believe that after pulling the bandit into the automobile the rest of the gang drove to the garage, locked the automobile inside and escaped.

The identification of Sloan, according to Chief Williams, is a forerunner of the early capture of the rest of the gang.

The Omaha police last week had Mrs. Sloan, said to be the bandit's wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burns and Columbus Thompson under surveillance for the Denver authorities, but when a detective squad descended upon the hotel where the quartet was stopping they had escaped. Sloan, according to the police, was the master mind of one of the most daring gangs of desperadoes in the country. This gang went out only for big money, say the officers.

One of the admission requirements was deadly marksmanship with either a revolver, rifle or shotgun. The reckless daring of Sloan's gunmen was demonstrated in the mint robbery when Sloan, pumping a half of buckshot at the main door of the mint, offered himself a sn target for the bullets of the government guards while his pals transferred the $200,000 in currency to their stolen automobile.

NEW PRESIDENT DISCUSSES PROBLEMS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The Capper-Tincher law, demand of farm bureaus for membership and the correction of abuses practiced by business on the Chicago Board of Trade were described by John J. Stream, new president of the Chicago Board of Trade, as the three most important questions before that body for 1923.

Mr. Stream addressed the annual meeting describing the big business questions as the most vital issue, declaring that the board could not hope for success until its house had been set in order, he said.

"From events in the past and more particularly from those of recent date it has become painfully apparent even to the most casual observer that the practices of big business on our exchange are fast becoming a menace and unless checked and brought within proper bounds can only result in the ultimate destruction of our organization."

If the Capper-Tincher bill to regulate trading is declared constitutional by the supreme court," he said, it would be the duty of the board to acknowledge the law at once and tender to the secretary of agriculture the board's good office.

"The senate took up the Capper farm credits bill after Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, had made an unsuccessful effort to have his bill, which would have created a government corporation to sell and buy agricultural products given priority."

The senate's act of investigation turned to an inquiry into the dealings of the "independent" companies with L. V. Nicholas, president of the National Petroleum Marketers association testifying there was "no real independence in the oil business."

ITALY NEVER HAD PROPOSED ACTION AGAINST ENGLAND

Says No Peace Possible Without Help of Great Britain

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Jan. 15.—Premier Mussolini told his cabinet today that Italy never had proposed a continental combination against England, but had advised France to limit her military action in the Ruhr valley to the utmost and not shut the door upon a possible agreement.

The premier declared that Italy had given France her political and technical support. Italy could not isolate herself without making a serious mistake, neither could she dissociate herself from the operation for control of the coal fields in the Ruhr, which was a question of fundamental importance for European and Italian economies.

Italy's proposal to form a continental combination against Great Britain was non-existent and the Italian government could never have contemplated such a combination.

If an entente was formed which could give Europe peace it could not in Italian opinion succeed without the participation of Great Britain. Italy said Mussolini had no coal and could not allow herself the luxury of isolation. Italy's policy had been inspired by the principles of the memorandum of London for safeguarding Italian interests and the restoration of European economic conditions.

The Italian government believes it was possible to reach an agreement and working to that end. It would be a grave mistake, declared the premier, for Germany to reject such a possibility.

A memorial is too suggestive.

SEN. BORAH'S BROAD MINDED COURSE IS COMPLETED.

The Bache financial review this week pays this unusual tribute to Senator Borah.

Here and there in the Congressional body, a high light shows up where statesmanship is developing above partisanship. One of the most encouraging examples of this is the case of Senator Borah.

The main quality which makes a statesman, (ability, honesty, fearlessness, and other necessary attributes being conceded)—all of which Senator Borah has is the purpose of steadily adhering to action for the good of the country as against any personal advantage which might accrue from partisan tactics.

In his change from obdurate insistence upon American isolation to pronounced advocacy of America's taking an advisory part in the rehabilitation of Europe; in his withdrawal of his own resolution to this effect, upon the plea of President Harding that the Administration was conducting negotiations towards the same end—in both of these cases Senator Borah showed himself to be head and shoulders above the ordinary usual representative or senator.

He has in other ways demonstrated broad development. In a speech in the Senate last month, he took a stand on railroads which must be very distasteful to the narrow anti-railroad crowd in that body. In discussing the reduction in freight rates as an indispensable step in the recovery of the country, he said: "It will be very difficult to reduce freight rates if we continue in this country to increase taxes upon the railroads, as we have for the last four years. More than one half of all the net earnings of the railroads which I shall mention was taken during the last year to pay taxes."

Among other things, Senator Borah said: "The tax burden comes back upon the producer, upon the shipper. It is a part of the tax which he pays ultimately and inevitably, as much as if it were levied upon his personal property or upon his real estate. These public utilities must collect this money from but one source, and that is from those who ship; so, as a matter of fact, it is another form of tax directly upon that class of people."

This kidney operation probably is the forerunner of a lot of experimental surgery. It suggests that eventually, when our vital organs give out, they may be re-

By Berton Braley

SPEND for clothes and spend for food, Spend for books and education; Spend to keep your strength renewed, Spend for healthy recreation; But the rest—put it away, Let the bank account enfold it Ready for a rainy day; Save it, keep it, bank it, hold it!

THINGS are going well for you? Times are daily getting better? Fine! But keep this thought in view—Poverty's a cruel fetter, Guard against the days to come When you'll need your cash and crave it, Salt away a little sum, Keep it, hold it, bank it, save it!

AGE can have few terrors for Those who saved the bright securities; When the wolf sniffs round the door Folks who heeded these here verses Need not worry. (I myself Spend my wad, in waste I sank it) Still I sing, "Retain your self—Hold it, keep it, save it, bank it!"

WHITE HALL WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

Dr. R. V. Brokaw if this City to Address. White Hall Club Women—Library Plans to be Considered.

White Hall, Jan. 15.—The bi-monthly session of the White Hall Woman's club will be held in the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon, at which there will be an address on "Individual Health" by Dr. R. V. Brokaw of Jacksonville. A vocal solo by Miss Bird Duncan and a piano duet by Miss Helen Worcester and Mrs. Ward Hull constitute the musical features.

At this meeting the organization will be apprised of the necessity of taking a hand in the plans for taking over the new library building in view of the club room facilities being intended primarily for the use of the Woman's clubs. The main effort to be put forth this spring is to circulate a petition and secure the passage at the spring township election of a tax of a mill and three-quarters for the support of the library, as the present half mill is inadequate with the expansion of the library and the acquisition of the handsome new quarters.

The present mill tax exceeded a thousand dollars during two years of the late war, but normally brings in less than $700, and the added tax is reckoned to produce about $3,000 annually. The original tax was put over through the efforts of the women, and it will be largely up to them to make it a success again this spring if the library is to be enabled to take over its new quarters and dedicate the structure with adequate pride and confidence of the future growth of the expanding public library.

M. L. Potts Passed Away at Grand Rapids, Mich., Following Brief Illness—Funeral in White Hall Wednesday.

White Hall, Jan. 15.—News reached here Sunday of the death of M. L. Potts at Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Potts was a native of White Hall, son of the late E. A. Potts, and the only surviving member of the E. A. Potts family. He received the word of his brother's death not fully unexpectedly. The deceased was taken seriously ill on Christmas with heart trouble, and the telegram stated that the immediate cause of his death was paralysis. He would have been 70 years of age next May. For a number of years the family resided in Springfield, going to Grand Rapids three years ago.

The widow and two daughters survive, the latter being Mrs. Helen Voight and Mrs. Addie Salliday, all of Grand Rapids. Mr. Potts became well known as a traveling man in the later years of his life, and was a member of the T. P. A.

The remains will arrive Tuesday night, and funeral services will be conducted in the home of C. E. Potts on North Main street at 2 o'clock Wednesday by Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the M. E. church. Burial will be in the White Hall cemetery.

DR. CRANE HELD MEETINGS AT DE PAUW

The Christian Advocate in a recent issue, gives the following paragraphs with reference to the successful series of meetings recently held at De Pauw university by Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, who has a number of Jacksonville relatives:

"Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, of Malden, Mass., held a week of evangelistic services at De Pauw university. There was standing room only at the meetings in Meharry hall, and his brief address at the morning chapel services were very effective. Dr. Crane was professed the hospitality of every college hall and chapter house, and was the dinner guest of the Rotary club, which he addressed on 'Practical Righteousness.' Dr. H. A. Gobin says:

"Every day and far into the night Dr. Crane was busy with personal interviews with inquirers. Committees prepared schedules so that these visits could be made with the best economy of time. It was a great fact that many of these conversations were not to answer the question, 'What must I do to be saved?' but rather, 'How can I best use my life in the service of the Master?'

"A fine sequel to Dr. Crane's meetings was given by President Grose in chapel talks on 'He that hath ears to hear let him hear.' A college is a great hearing place. Even here are the wayside, stony ground, thorny ground, and good ground hearers. The best effect of Dr. Crane's lessons is not entertainment or even instruction but in so receiving and obeying the truth as to produce a harvest of fruitful work."

W. W. HOLLIDAY TO BE LOCAL MANAGER

Will Act in That Capacity for Jacksonville Exchange—Has Been in Telephone Work for Many Years.

It was announced yesterday that W. W. Holliday, secretary and treasurer of the Illinois Telephone company will also act as manager of the Jacksonville exchange.

This will not be new work to Mr. Holliday who served in that capacity in the local exchange from 1903 to 1921. During the same period he was also general manager of the company.

He took up telephone work in 1900, his first location being at Carrollton. Mr. Holliday is a large stockholder in the company and is recognized as an authority in matters pertaining to telephone service. His many friends will be glad to know that he is again to have personal charge of the city exchange as it will mean increased efficiency in local service.

D. H. HOLLE IS GIVEN CHANCE TO GET RICH

Yesterday D. M. Holle of this city received a letter from Madrid, Spain, giving him an opportunity to get $120,000 in an easy manner.

It is rather an old gag and has been worked with more or less frequency for a number of years. The letter is supposed to have been written by a man who is imprisoned in Spain.

The prisoner has some baggage in which is a portmanteau in which is a check for a large sum of money. Mr. Holle is told that if he will assist in getting the prisoner out of jail he will receive $120,000 of the fortune.

The instructions are to send a cable if the receiver of the letter is willing to assist and particulars will be sent by mail. Mr. Holle has decided that he will not venture into the deal as it is rather expensive sending cablegrams to Europe these days.

Expert Physical Instructor in Chicago Declares It is Just the Thing to Build One Up

"Tanlac has scored a 'knock-out' over all my troubles, gave me back my former vigorous health and strength, and made me feel fine from head to foot," declared George Finerman, 1335 South Turner street, Chicago, Ill., a well-known physical instructor and one of Chicago's cleverest amateur boxers.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was feeling run-down and my customary strength and energy were slipping away from me. My appetite was below normal, my stomach was occasionally upset with indigestion, and at times I felt sluggish and depressed and couldn't get sufficient sleep."

"Well, Tanlac gave these troubles a terrific blow, and now I am eating, sleeping and feeling better than ever. I have more energy, can do better and faster foot-work and the most strenuous exercise never tires me now. I am glad to recommend Tanlac to anyone—in or out of athletic circles—for it certainly strengthens and builds a man up. It's great!"

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF HERRIN RIOTS DEAD

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A coroner's jury investigating the death of Sidney J. Morrison, who was injured during the Herrin mine riots and who died at a Chicago hospital yesterday returned a verdict that Morrison had died from the effects of a bullet wound in his back and made no recommendation. The main testimony at the inquest was given by Morrison's mother, Mrs. Mary Cheapepha, who testified that Morrison told her he had been shot on a truck about seven miles from Herrin on June 21 last.

Fred Coultas was a visitor with local acquaintances from Lynnville yesterday.

William Skeavers of Springfield was a Sunday guest at the home of Jacksonville friends.

CHINESE, UNUSED TO GLASS WINDOWS, THRUST HEADS THROUGH

Peking.—By the Associated Press.—The Chinese have become accustomed to many western ways, but glass windows in trains are still perplexing to them. In the remote districts the natives continue to make their windows of rice paper, following a custom that is centuries old.

Passengers on a railroad running between Shanghai and Peking were surprised to find black lines painted across the window panes of the cars. The explanation given us was that Chinese farmers, who are beginning to travel, being unused to transparent windows, would thrust their heads through the glass, resulting in many broken windows and cut scalps. It is hoped by the railroad management that the upkeep on window glass will be reduced by the use of painted lines.

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonials about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. ILLINOIS SOCIETIES
MET MONDAY NIGHT

Sigma Pi and Phi Alpha Gave Regular Programs — Gamma Nu Elected Officers.

The meetings of the Illinois college men's societies, postponed from last Friday on account of the Carthage game, were all held Monday night. The two older societies had complete programs as published in the Journal last week, and Gamma Nu an abbreviated program to allow election of second semester officers.

The Sigma Pi debate, on the question, "Resolved, That the Turks should be expelled from Europe," was won by the affirmative team, but the merits were voted to the negative.

The debate in Phi Alpha society was on the subject, "Resolved, That the general property tax should be abolished." The unanimous decision went to the negative team, but the merits of the question were voted for the affirmative.

The Gamma Nu officers for the coming semester are headed by David C. Williams as president; Larry Dale as vice president, and Harold Buchanan as secretary.

Pickersel is critic, Cramer librarian, Blauvelt treasurer, Atkins sergeant at arms, and Wylder director of prudential committee. The officers will be installed at next meeting.

Plans were also made in Gamma Nu for the anniversary celebration, which will take place April 10.

LONG MAIL ROUTE
IN FROZEN NORTH

Edmonton, Alta. — Canada's longest and loneliest mail route, covering a distance of 3,500 miles, now is in operation. With the northern rivers frozen, husky teams of the Northern Trading company have left Fort McMurray, the terminus of the Alberta and Great Waterways railroad, for the settlement of Akavik, 1,750 miles to the north.

Mail will be left at all fur trading points along the Mackenzie, Slave and Athabasca rivers. It is expected Akavik will be reached about February 1, and after a brief rest, the return trip to Fort McMurray will start, reaching the railroad about March 1.

Five relays of dog teams will be used, the longest single "mush" being that from Fort Simpson to Akavik, a distance of 886 miles. The mail load will be comparatively light by the time this stretch is reached, thus enabling the dogs to go the entire distance without relief.

The man carrying the mail has no space for a tent or other comforts. At night he curls up in his blankets under some convenient spruce tree, with his dogs crowded around him for warmth. All day he breaks trail through the snow and occasionally must chop his way through the ice hummocks which pile up in the Mackenzie.

W. J. MOORE'S WILL PLACED ON RECORD

Jacksonville Citizen Recently Deceased Left Bulk of Property to Wife—Made Provision to Aid Sons in Ongoing Homes.

The will of the late William J. Moore, made July 27, 1922, was filed for probate Monday in the office of County Clerk G. L. Riggs. Mr. Moore provided for the payment of debts and bequeathed his personal property to his wife, with the exception of a number of cows, other disposition being made of these animals.

Mr. Moore, who was a dairyman, directed that a cow be given to each of his three sons, Perrin, Leslie and Wallace Moore. A tract of land of 6 1-2 acres in north Jacksonville was bequeathed to Mrs. Moore for her lifetime, and at the conclusion of this life interest the property is to pass in equal shares to Kenneth Moore and his sister, Marcelle Moore. The remainder of the real estate was placed in the hands of the executor, John T. Roberts, in trust.

It is provided that the property is to be sold and with the exception of $2,000 that the money is to be paid to Mrs. Moore for her use and benefit.

From the $2,000 fund the sum of $2,500 is to be paid to Perrin Moore, when he has purchased a home, and a like provision is made with reference to Leslie Moore, Wallace Moore and Merrill Moore.

It is further provided that in case any of the sons does not purchase a home, that when he reaches the age of 25 that a cash payment from the fund mentioned is to be made.

Mr. Moore provided that in the case John T. Roberts should decline to act as executor that William J. Roberts succeed him. The signature of the will was witnessed by Minnie Theobald, Russell Theobald and William E. Thomson.

THE ZACHARY CASE

Editor Journal: I have been reading lately of the efforts to have the Zachary case transferred to another county for trial alleging that the citizens of Morgan county are so prejudiced that Mr. Zachary can not get a fair trial. I do not know what the specific arguments have been to get so many signatures to those affidavits, but I have read in the Journal that prejudice of a religious, political, Ku Klux, and perhaps others, nature is claimed by a Jacksonville attorney to exist throughout the county so no fair trial could be held.

Now I have talked with some of our substantial citizens in Mercedia precinct and learn that prejudice against the defendant is not general down here, and that a fair trial is possible without our airing our court affairs elsewhere. I believe myself that a fair trial may be had in this case or in any other originating in this county, and that there are fair-minded people of sufficient number in this county to transact our court business.

This Zachary case is of practically local interest confined to the center of Morgan county. Contrast it with the Herrin case which is of national interest. Yet a jury was secured in the same county in which the tragedy occurred, a trial is now proceeding and I have heard of no attempt by any of the defendant's attorneys to create imaginary reasons for transferring the Herrin case elsewhere.

I do not believe in subjecting this county to useless notoriety and expense, which likely will result in taking the Zachary case elsewhere for trial. Let us have less nonsense in this case and try it here.

DOKAYS READY TO PLAY PETERSBURG

Manager Suiter of the Dokay Independent basketball team has sent a letter to E. G. Mitchell, manager of the Independent Petersburg team, offering to play a game on the floor here Tuesday, Feb. 6, 1923, providing that a return game can be fixed for Monday, March 5, or Wednesday, March 7.

In the same letter Manager Suiter makes some caustic references to previous letters, indicating that the Jacksonville manager believes that the Petersburg team is not really anxious for a game here. Jan. 19th is suggested as the date for an answer with reference to the present proposal.

BOY BEGINS BARBERING

Johnnie Hopper, son of Tom Hopper, appeared in the downtown district Monday With a mode of tonsure all his own. He had become dissatisfied with the length of his hair in front, and had experimented with the scissors. What the little fellow's mother did when she first saw it was not reported, but by late Monday afternoon she seemed quite resigned.

A number of citizens have evidently overlooked the fact that the garbage ordinance under which the city has been operating, is not now effective. The contract for the removal of garbage closed Jan. 1. This explains the reason that no garbage or rubbish has been removed by the city authority since the first of the year.

NEW GARBAGE DISPOSAL TO BE INAUGURATED

Ordinance Read at Council Session Monday Night—Appropriation Ordinance Is on Budget Basis—Park Board and Library Board Appointments Made.

The city council had a long session Monday night, owing principally to the fact that the appropriation ordinance was under consideration. This ordinance, which is now on a budget basis, was adopted with an emergency clause.

An ordinance requesting the collection and disposal of garbage was given a first reading and like action was taken with the ordinance creating the office of sanitary inspector.

Mayor Crabtree presided and the roll call by City Clerk Scott showed a full attendance. Aldermen Rowe, Sorrells, Harmon, Chapin, Ehrie, Lonergan and McGinnis.

Porter Johnson was present for the purpose of giving the council some additional data with reference to the accident wherein his car was damaged by coming into contact with a rope attached on South Main street near the Strawn block, recently damaged by fire. This matter was referred to the finance committee and city attorney.

Mayor Crabtree nominated Terrence Brennan and T. W. Beadle as members of the park board; Dr. Carl E. Black, Mrs. M. H. Havenhill and Miss Mary Wadsworth as members of the library board. These appointments were confirmed.

The appropriation ordinance provides a budget expenditure practically identical with the expenditures of last year as raised through general taxation and receipts of different departments.

New Garbage Ordinance. It is proposed in the new garbage disposal ordinance to charge a license fee of $50 for persons engaged in the collecting and removing of garbage and a license fee of $5 for persons engaged in collecting of refuse matter.

A person authorized to collect garbage will be permitted to enter into a contract for the removal of garbage from the premises of one individual for $4 a year, or paid in advance, or 40 cents per month payable monthly, any such contract to be between the citizen and the licensed garbage collector.

The ordinance also describes the kind of a receptacle that shall be kept for garbage and defines garbage.

With reference to the collection of refuse matter such as cinders and tin cans, as indicated the license fee is smaller and while it is expected that only two or three persons will take out licenses as garbage collectors, the thought is that a much larger number will be licensed for the handling of refuse matter. The sanitary inspector to be appointed will be under the direction of the health officer and will have charge of the collection, removal and disposal of garbage and refuse.

The salary will be $1,200 a year and it will be the duty of the sanitary inspector to see that the provisions of the garbage disposal ordinance are carried out. He will have authority to inspect the premises and to order the removal of garbage or rubbish if the property owner declines to comply with the ordinance.

The city will have authority in such cases to have the garbage or refuse removed and the cost taxed against the property owner.

Appropriation Funds. The appropriation ordinance as indicated is on a budget basis and shows the amount that has been set aside for the operation of each department, the general totals being as follows:

Mayor's office, $1,150. This includes salary of the mayor, $900 and allowances for office expenses, stationery, etc.
City clerk's office, $1,936.
City treasurer's office, $450.
City hall fund, $960.
Supplies, $2,471.70.
City building repair fund, $3,360.15.

Election expenses, $2,741.79.
Fire department, $18,224 of which $14,450 is for salaries.
Police department, $13,703, of which $12,600 is for salaries.

Streets and public improvements, $20,781.07, of which $10,400 is for salaries and wages.
Sewer department, $2,000.

Sanitary and health department, $4,300.
Law department, $1,100.

Civil engineering department, $2,410.
Light plant, $54,893.48, of which $16,980 is for salaries.

Water distribution department, $8,785, of which $4,740 is for salaries.

Water plant department, $71,263.40, of which $3,720 is for salaries.

Diamond Grove cemetery, $8,900.
Jacksonville cemetery, $2,831.
Public library, $14,000.

Park system, $14,000.
Public benefit fund, $14,000.
Special funds are also set apart for the payment of principal and interest on the various outstanding bond issues.

The statement with reference to the figures for the light and water departments are somewhat confusing owing to the fact that the water department funds under the law must be kept separate and credit is given the light department for the power furnished to the water department. As indicated, the ordinance was adopted with an emergency clause and will become effective after its legal publication.

Before declining an offer of marriage a girl should tie a string to it.

Because the blood, bowels and liver are the "downs" of Olive Tablets, the complexion is cleared, there is no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that, clear the blood, and act so effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," bad breath, a dull listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or simply face.

LOCAL POLICE STOP MASON CITY RUNAWAYS

Lawrence Hedgeshire, aged 13; Kenneth Bane, 15; and Jerome Lynn, 16, Mason City boys, were Saturday night visitors at the Jacksonville police station. Bound for Kansas City with the intent of making their fortunes, they were halted by a phone call from their parents to the police here, who located them aboard the Chicago and Alton Hummer.

One had extra clothing in a flour sack, and another had a suitcase. The three had $28 capital for the trip. The fathers came over Sunday morning and escorted the lads home. The Jacksonville authorities were glad to allow them penal jurisdiction, and it is probable that the boys were handled in the old-fashioned way.

BAPTIST INDEES MAKE IT TWO MORE

First Team Defeats State Register Carriers—Seconds Beat Grace Juniors.

The Baptist Independents registered a win over the State Register Carriers in a fast game at the Illinois State Deaf school gym last night, the score being 32-24. This makes two wins and no losses for the team.

The second team opened the bill by taking into camp a team of well-matched youngsters from Grace church, 6-4, and the Baptist boys have reason to feel that they can stack up well against any team of their age and weight. The games are played at the gym of the Deaf every Monday evening, and the Baptist boys are ready to take on at that time any team in their class.

In the main event, Goody, filling the place of Captain Conkle at center, played a fine game. Emerson and Barton played a fast and furious game at forward, and Hess and Green held down the guard positions in fine style. The Carriers put up a good fight, as the score shows. Their lineup was K. Bringard and D. Woods, forwards; E. Cully, center; J. Cully and L. Poole, guards.

In the second game basketball shooting was a rare occurrence. Green at center and Abernathy at forward making points for the winners. Copeland, forward, and Todden and Barton, guards, did good floor work, as was also true of the opponents. The Grace team included Bringard and Hopper, forwards; Treppier, center; Gauss and Riggs, guards.

AFRICAN PRINCE TELLS OF WILD TRIBE WAYS

Prince Condelee, son of the king of the South African tribe of Bonto, spoke before a large and appreciative crowd at Mt. Emory Baptist church Monday evening, telling of his tribe and their customs, of his experiences of being kidnapped by missionaries, and the work he hopes to do among his people when he returns.

Fourteen years ago his mother sent him to the river to get water. He was lassoed by missionaries, who did not hesitate to take Providence into their own hands. They brought him to London. It took a year or two to get used to wearing clothes, the Bontos and their neighbors being naked tribes.

As soon as he was accustomed to this and other usages of the occidental world he was brought to the United States. Here he has secured his education, finally securing a diploma under Dr. Hale at Nashville State Normal school. In September he will return to his tribe as a missionary and teacher, and meantime he is devoting his time to lectures and sermons to American churches and organizations.

The Bonto tribe, which lives perhaps 1,500 miles or so from the civilized area of South Africa, are believers in polygamy. The king of the tribe has 600 wives. If an ordinary man of the tribe desires to marry, he must secure ten prospective brides, and appear with them before the king, who performs the ceremony, leaving the man much married. These men, the speaker said, get along with ten better than the American man would with two.

The occupation of the men are hunting, fishing and warfare. The women do the rest. There is no tilling of the soil, even the bread being made from natural grain. Monkeys, elephants and hippopotamus are the chief meats, the speaker said. Their god is aboa constrictor, which they keep in a trough and beleaguers with their prayers before battle. Their sign language is written on boards.

Although naturally resentful at his abduction, the prince gradually grew into an appreciation of the benefits forced on him, and is now an ardent Christian.

ARTISTS' COURSE CLOSSES BRILLIANTLY

Reginald Sykora, Russian Cellist, Shows Promise of Ascending to Promos. Rank of Musical Prestige.

The fourth and last of the season's offerings in the artist's course series, given last night in music hall, furnished a brilliant closing number.

Reginald Sykora, the young Russian cellist whose star is just now in the ascendancy, played an unusual program. It was in every sense a 'cello program and offered numbers rarely heard.

There were several changes in the program, among others the important change of accompanists. Hubert Carlin, who was announced in advance, was replaced by Miss Northcutt. The task assigned her was a difficult one indeed, her piano support was virile, ample and full of rhythm; and always her technique equaled the demand upon it.

Mr. Sykora has chosen a difficult instrument for the delivery of his message, but that he plays the 'cello magnificently there is no question. His quick, sure work on the large fingerboard, and his equally skillful use of the bow, brought about results that will linger long in the memories of those fortunately present.

The 'cello has a wide range of pitch, and in every extreme the tone was sure and true. The quality of tone also was of large variety, and at no time did one long for relief from the 'voice of the 'cello.' The incomparable 'cello étude written by Chopin and transcribed for the 'cello received an interpretation that satisfied completely.

DRURY COLLEGE WANTS GAME WITH ILLINOIS

Ask to Play Illinois Thursday Night—St. Louis University Comes for Game Saturday Evening.

In the midst of preparations for the game here with St. Louis university next Saturday night Coach Harmon received a telegram yesterday from George A. Pritchard of Drury college, located at Springfield, Mo., asking whether Illinois college could meet the Drury five here on Thursday night of this week. Pritchard is a former coach at Eureka college, but has been directing the athletic activities of the Missouri college during the last three years. Drury is undoubtedly on a trip into this state but the message received did not give any particulars.

Coach Harmon has replied to Pritchard that there is a possibility of the game being arranged and definite action will probably be taken today.

Meantime preparations for the St. Louis game are going forward at full speed. Considerable time was devoted yesterday afternoon to strengthen the defense and Jack Roberts and Underwood, the two guards, came in for a session of special instruction. This week's practice should leave the defense greatly strengthened and should add considerably to the smoothness of the offense.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE ROYSE HELD MONDAY

Rev. Robertson Conducts Service at West Lafayette Avenue Residence—Burial in Diamond Grove.

Rev. C. D. Robertson conducted funeral services for George Royce at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the residence, 1336 West Lafayette avenue. The minister took as his text 1. Cor. 15:21. "Since by man came death, by man also came the resurrection of the dead." He stated that all matters of faith, religion and truth find their meaning in terms of humanity. No truth or precept is of vital importance, except as it is expressed in human life and action.

Since man has sinned and brought death into the world, it has become the crowning result of life. Everything ends in death as far as man is concerned. The whole world is subject to it. Yet by man also came the resurrection of the dead. Jesus Christ, who took the form of deified humanity, worked out a plan by which life rather than death, is the end of things. Death is eliminated from his system, and the resurrection opens the door to a larger life. The speaker then closed with an application of his thesis to the life and character of the deceased. Mr. Royce had worked out in his own existence this fact of a continued life.

Music was furnished by Mrs. J. F. Mahon, Mrs. Norbert Capps, Hubert Littler and Norman Campbell. The many beautiful floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Hubert Littler, Mrs. Norman Campbell, and the Misses Mabel Conboy and Bessie Harrison, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cogswell.

The pallbearers were William Stull, T. M. Bush, William H. Reegge, David Kennedy, Albert Killam, Charles Reid, John Sample and James Stout. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

GUARANTEE BOUNDARIES AND STOP WAR SAYS BAKER

Former Secretary of War Suggests Solution for European Tangle in Paper to Babson Institute

Comments on Russia

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Jan. 13.—Hon. Newton D. Baker, who was Secretary of War during the great World Conflict has today issued a statement thru the Babson Institute. Next to Woodrow Wilson, Mr. Baker is said to have the most intimate personal knowledge of the European war situation of any living man. This is his first public utterance on the subject since he retired March 4, 1921.

"War, as now carried on, cannot be much further continued," says Mr. Baker, in answer to a question on the possibility of permanent peace. "The machinery of destruction has become so efficient and the economic consequences so terrible, that war can no longer be considered. Of course, I do not mean small wars, riots, petty squabbles between small states. When I say, War, I mean that there are five nations capable of making war. These are Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan and the United States. These five nations alone can make war and the rest of the world can make war only as these five nations lend the others the support of their industrial and financial machinery. War today is an industrial proposition.

"For these five nations, the choice is between peace and suicide. Their affairs are so interrelated that any disturbance in one has its effect on the others. The prosperity of all of them depends upon undisturbed commercial relations. All the arguments of safety, profit and self-interest drive these five nations toward peace. Economic as well as humanitarian forces are daily at work to prevent another great war.

"Now, why do great nations go to war? For just one thing; the safety and extension of their frontiers. With a few exceptions, that has been the cause of every great war in history. There are always outsiders, nibbling at the edges; and to secure peace at home, the great power is always seeking to push its frontier back just a little farther. It seeks to put a little greater distance between itself and the covetous, unsuccessful land beyond the boundary. The way to get peace, then is to guarantee the frontiers. There is no other practical way. I, therefore believe that some day, when we have forgotten some of the partisan fury generated over the Versailles Treaty, we will undertake to guarantee National Boundaries by a League of Nations—either this League or some other—but along the line of Article X.

"But is not this open to the objection of certain Republican Senators who honestly believe that boundary lines must of necessity change as nations grow or decline? These Senators said Article X is like guaranteeing that a rich family will always be rich. Now, we know that rich families do not remain rich. Their property is dissipated and the grandchildren of the rich family of today will be working for somebody for wages. Of course, the Nations when they are inefficient must take the same chance and suffer the same fate. Why should we guarantee them the permanence of their present frontiers? This is a fair question and I will try to answer it frankly.

"I do not propose to guarantee them 'permanence.' I am not sold on the present map of Europe. Perhaps too much emphasis was laid on the principle of nationality and too little on economic solidarity in its making. It is bound to change. But we do not want another war to change it. My proposal is that, when it is changed, it shall be changed as a result of negotiation and award, and not by robbery or pillage.

"For that matter, we are 'guaranteeing' wealth to the rich, now. We are spending untold sums to prevent violence upon property rights. A peaceful changing of frontiers hurts nobody. It is the violent method that costs and that goes to extremes. By negotiation we exchange with each other what true interest justifies, by violence men take all they can get."

Mr. Baker was then asked his opinion regarding Russia and whether he felt Russia should be recognized.

"So far as the recognition of Russia concerns only their form of government, I would recognize Russia in two seconds. If they want to pick out a perfect fool and make him King, that is no concern of mine. My only hesitation about Russia recognition concerns Russia's attitude toward foreign agreements. Whenever Russia will agree that any foreign undertaking that they enter upon will be honored and observed, then I am for recognizing Russia."

"Would you insist on their paying the old Czar's debts to France?" Mr. Baker was asked. "No," he replied. "No more than I would have insisted on the United States paying the bills of the Southern Confederacy. That is a matter for Russia to decide for itself. The only point that concerns me is that when Russia makes a bargain with the United States or with any other foreign nation, they shall be prepared to stand by it. In other words, the internal organization and political institutions of a country are its own business. True self-interest will lead any government to honor its international obligations. But recognition should not depend upon a more dislike of the form of government which a people prefer for themselves."

In connection with this statement by Mr. Baker, the following figures show the increase in the debt of Europe owing to the World War:

Country	1913	1921
United Kingdom	$3,485,818,000
France	6,346,129,000
Belgium	722,000,000
Germany	1,244,052,000
Italy	2,921,153,000
Denmark	95,579,000
Country	1921	1922
United Kingdom	$3,710,000,000
France	50,960,000,000
Belgium	4,670,000,000
Germany	71,000,000,000
Italy	18,650,000,000
Denmark	215,000,000

Surely the resources of Europe are not sufficient both to pay the interest on this huge new debt and to continue the present war expenditures to protect frontiers. Before long we must choose between some association of na-

"LEST HAPPEY WE DRIFT"

(By M. H. LICHTNER.)

Text—Hebrews 2:1. "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them."

But that does not mean that I shall repeat it, Sunday after Sunday, as a personal confession of the faith which I hold today. I would read it—just as occasionally we read the Declaration of Independence. We do not attempt to revise that historic paper simply because we have a better understanding with Great Britain than did our Revolutionary fathers. We read it in its setting. Every child knows the difference between 1776 and 1922. Why may we not trust the intelligence of the church to sense the difference between the fourth century and the twentieth?

I do not see any other way out. As long as we insist upon historic standards in doctrine and practice, so long will the church cease to attract and hold the loyalty of thinking men and women. What we might do with the Creed, we might do also with our forms of baptism, with our ritual of the Holy Communion, with all the mechanism of ecclesiastical order and discipline. We face the same sharply defined issue as the old Hebrew-Christians. They had either to break decisively with the past and trust themselves to the progressive unfolding of a new revelation, or go back to the old authority and to the old slavery to tradition.

What is it that holds us back from a larger and finer and more efficient union of Protestant Christianity? What is it but the 'dead hand' of the past, the memory of old antagonisms, the unwillingness to trust ourselves to the leadership of a present and living Christ?

But it is not enough, simply to break with the thralldom of the past. Our second task is the more difficult. We confront the necessity for a new evaluation of our present experience in Christ. Why not deal with Christ as you would deal with the Creed, you ask me. It is a fair question, but the thing can't be done. That is the miracle of history. Put Jesus Christ in his own historical perspective—and he does not stay there. He was a Jew—Yes! But does the world Semitize him either in thought, or art, or literature? He was a Nazarene—Yes! But does he ever seem to stay in Nazareth? Put him in the stream of the great cosmic movements. Does he seem like a carp upon a restless ocean, carried along by wind or wave, or does he seem to direct that movement by his own imperial will? Hear him as he catches up the best thinking of his own past. "Ye have heard that it was said of old time—but I say unto you." He is something more and greater than the fulfillment of Jewish hopes; he is something more and greater than the Messiah. He is the focal point of all history.

"That hands upon the cruel tree Extended wide as mercy's span, Are gathering to the Son of Man The ages past—and yet to be." He does more than carry on the torch; he makes himself the light. He leaps from his setting yonder, on the horizon where the centuries cross and is now and here, a living presence, always contemporary, always prophetic. Master of the Greek language and master of the Greek spirit, this writer to the Hebrews felt his helplessness before the majesty of this conception. He could say just one thing, but in the saying of this one thing, has he not said all—"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, yea and forever?"

This is what we have to evaluate in terms of today's thinking. We have to make a new appraisal of the contemporary Christ. We have to assess, in the light of our present knowledge, the meaning of our loyalty to him. And that, as I have said, is more difficult than the break with the past.

It means a number of things. It means that we must accept every advance in human knowledge as a step toward the final unveiling of the truth which is God.

We do not commit the incredible folly of setting Genesis against the witness of the microscope and the testimony of the rocks. We do not correct the insight of modern philosophy by quoting either the speeches of Job or the rather cynical findings of Ecclesiastes. On the contrary, we are quite willing to read Genesis in the light of all that historical criticism and biological science may tell us. We are unmoved by any hysterical attack upon scholarship, because we are convinced that science, and philosophy and literature and art and music—are channels through which the living God is still revealing himself to men.

It means that we actually do believe that God does still speak to us. He is not a God of the dead but of the living. Revelation did not cease when a body of rather prejudiced and uninspired ecclesiastics closed by formal vote the Canon of Scripture. The Bible—we shall always hold to be the most important source book in religion, and we shall prove our reverence by subjecting its teachings to the most critical examinations and having Europe repudiate her indebtedness. Statistics strongly indicate that there is no middle ground or other alternative. Some say that the financial interest of the world brought on the Great War. We say that these financial interests will compel the world to accept some sort of a League of Nations.

tion. But, on the other hand, if we are trying to evaluate our present religious experience, we cannot but recognize the hand of God in everything that uplifts and strengthens and inspires, whether it be a psalm of David, a sermon of Paul, a statue of Rodin, an oratorio of Handel, a poem of Robert Browning, or a new discovery in the field of modern science. It means that we shall seek to build the spirit of Christ into the common life.

That is to say, the emphasis in religion will not be so much theological as ethical; not so much speculative as practical. We shall be inclined to accept that interpretation of the Trinity suggested by Professor Kent, "Fellowship with God, discipleship with Jesus, brotherhood with man."

After all, life is just a matter of adjustments in human relations, and there can be no appraisal of our experience in Christ which does not include every effort to make possible a better human life for all. This does not mean that the Church must make herself the mouthpiece of any economic program. It does not mean that the Church shall seek to direct and control the various political processes either in local, state, national or international affairs. That is not the business of organized religion. But it does mean that the church, giving herself to a patient study of the seething unrest everywhere in the world, shall attempt to inspire a new spirit of understanding, a new love for peace, a new atmosphere for friendly democratic discussion.

To be concrete, the church will not attempt to settle strikes or to re-organize industry, but why should not the church extend her good offices to bring together the various antagonistic groups and suggest those broad, fundamental principles which must inevitably undergird the new social order of which Christ dreamed?

Given this conception of the task of the church in the new age of freedom, there will be no difficulty about candidates for the ministry, except the difficulty in finding places for those who may desire to serve. Let the church break decisively from its slavery to the past, let the church announce, not a creed, but a covenant of fellowship and service phrased in the language of our own day, let the church frankly commit herself to a world-wide program of service, and the fatal drift of today will be checked. We do not need to fear, for a single moment, that such a church will fail to preserve the sense of historical continuity. That will always live in architecture—in music—and in memory. But do you know of any finer and better preservation of the sense of continuity than by a flaming allegiance to the spirit of Jesus Christ?

Yesterday, the weakness of liberalism was the absence of prophetic vision and power. A liberalism which is not passionate is futile. A modern church which does not thrill with a genuine spirit of evangelism is dead. A critical aloofness, an academic detachment, an atmosphere of intellectual pride—these have no place in a church which tries to be a contemporary as its Christ. Rather, one will witness a new birth in the romance of spiritual service. The world must feel again the militant, pioneer impulse of prophetic souls. That is a dramatic picture which Henry Van Dyke draws of Henry Hudson, baffled by the ice, embarrassed by the threat of mutiny, but dreaming—with indomitable courage—of the final realization of his dreams. In all literature, I know of no finer challenge to Christians of today.

"Yes, and I seek it still. My great adventure and my guiding star, For look ye friends, our voyage is not done. We hold by hope as long as life endures. Somewhere among these floating fields of ice, Somewhere along this westward, widening bay, Somewhere beneath this luminous Northern light, The channel opens to the Farther East. I know it—and some day, a little ship Will push her bowsprit in and battle thru."

And why not ours? Tomorrow? Who can tell? The lucky chance awaits the fearless heart. These are the longest days in all the year. The world is round—and God is everywhere. And while our shallop floats, we still can steer.

So, point her up, John King, nor west by north. We'll keep the honor of a certain aim. Amid the peril of uncertain days And sail ahead—and leave the rest to God."

WINCHESTER TAKEN INTO CAMP BY ELKS

Local Tossers Show Good Form and Outclass Opponents—Seymour and Dunlap Star on Offense.

With Seymour and Dunlap starring on the offense the Elks basketball team defeated the Winchester Independents in David Prince gymnasium Monday night by a score of 27 to 9.

The Elks jumped into the lead early and maintained it throughout. The visitors made seven points in the first half but were held to a lone field basket in the second half. They had many chances on free throws due to fouls but failed to hit the hoop. They also tried many long shots as well as short ones but they could not locate the basket.

Much improvement was shown in the Elks play in last night's game and with more practice the aggregation should win a majority of its future games. Seymour proved a hard man for Winchester to stop and they frequently failed to stop him. He made a number of pretty long shots in the second half and was good in following up the shots and taking the ball off the board if it failed to count. Dunlap was a close second to Seymour in the scoring and did some good work from the foul line. Cain at center did some good work until sent to the sidelines on personal fouls. Woods and Coultas also did good work on defense.

For Winchester Schlinger was the best man on offensive work, getting six of the nine points made by his team and registering the only counter in the second half. Huffman made the other basket for Winchester. The score:

WOULD CREATE NATIONAL BUREAU

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Creation of a national boxing registration bureau, to act as a clearing house for information on professional pugilism and adoption of a standardized universal code of ring regulations were favored today by delegates attending the third annual convention of the national boxing association which represents boxing commission in 18 of 21 states and five foreign countries where the sport is legalized.

Both proposals were referred to committees to be reported for action tomorrow, the closing of the two day convention.

The association took no action on a suggestion that it seek to prevent the proposed return bout for the world's heavyweight championship between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard on the ground that the latter is not a fit opponent for the champion. President Walter H. Laginger, of Milwaukee, declared that in his opinion the N. B. A. had no jurisdiction over the matter and that it was a question solely for state authorities to decide if any issue arose.

VOTE CLOSE ON APPROVING STAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 15.—The Pacific Coast Baseball league members divided four to four on a vote today on a resolution endorsing President W. H. McCarthy on the stand he has taken in the dispute with the major leagues on the question of drafting players from the minor leagues. McCarthy cast an affirmative vote for the resolution.

The resolution was introduced by Charles Graham, of the San Francisco club. J. Cal Ewing of the Oakland club opposed the resolution, urging that the matter of the draft should be left to determination by the minor leagues.

The clubs divided as follows: San Francisco, Seattle, Sacramento, voted in favor of the resolution and Salt Lake, Portland, Oakland and Los Angeles opposed it.

McCarthy's affirmative vote carried the resolution.

GIVE PARTICIPANTS CLEAN BILL OF SALE

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 15.—Averaging 63 1-2 points an inning, Jake Schaefer, former world's 182 lb. line champion, defeated Matsuyama, the young Jap expert, 250 to 46 in the first block of their 500 point exhibition match here this afternoon.

Will Fighting Spirit Save "Rip" Collins

"Rip" Collins, traded by Boston to Detroit, has had two failings since breaking into the pitching ranks of the American League—lack of control and ambition. They have kept him from reaching stardom.

Collins finished the 1922 season with something like six straight wins. In his last 10 starts he was a mighty hard pitcher to beat. He seemed to have acquired winning control—ability to place his speed and curves.

It is possible that Collins, now that he is with Detroit, will grasp the spirit of Cobb. In other words, Cobb may be able to make Collins feel that he is a great pitcher and constantly try to live up to such a reputation.

This little incident will illustrate the greatest failing of Collins—lack of ambition.

Collins was with New York at the time. He had turned in a great game against Cleveland. Sitting on the bench the next day one of the veterans remarked to Collins:

"That was a great game you worked yesterday 'Rip.' Walter Johnson was never any faster. Keep on pitching like that and they never will send you back to the Texas League."

Collins was acquired by New York from Dallas in the Texas League, where he was rated a big star.

"That is what is troubling me," said Collins. "I'm not so crazy about the big show. It is too serious a business up here. Say, if I pitched a game like that

PANTS ROWLAND TO BE UMPIRE

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Clarence Rowland for four years manager of the Chicago White Sox, tonight was appointed by President Ban Johnson of the American league as a member of the umpiring staff for 1923. Rowland managed the White Sox from 1915 to 1918, winning the world's championship in 1917.

President Johnson plans to add two additional members to the umpiring staff besides Rowland but is not ready to announce the new names.

YANKEE FIVE MEETS MURRAYVILLE HIGH

Local Tossers Have Hard Battle on Their Hands at Liberty Hall

Murrayville High will play a return game with the Yankee Five at Liberty hall tonight at 8 p. m. In the game at Murrayville the Yankees lost and expect to reverse the score of that game.

Murrayville is going very strong at present, having defeated some very good teams already this season and will no doubt put up a strong game. Both teams are practicing hard and a good game is certain to result.

The teams will probably line up as follows:

Murrayville—Woods and Wright, forwards; Carlson, center; Mawson and King, guards; Yankees—Murgatroyd and McGhee, forwards; Costello, center; Palasky and Cooney, guards.

SHURTLEFF FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Alton, Ill., Jan. 15.—Seven games are on the Shurtleff college football schedule for the 1923 season, as follows:

Oct. 12—Quincy college at Quincy.
Oct. 20—Charleston Normal here.
Oct. 26—Central Wesleyan at Warrington, Mo.
Nov. 2—Southern Illinois Normal at Carbondale.
Nov. 10—McKendree college here.
Nov. 17—Carthage at Carthage.
Nov. 24—Blackburn at Chubburn.

SARAZEN SAYS "LET IT RIDE"

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 15.—Gene Sarazen, American open golf champion, expressed surprise when informed of the refusal of the directors of Briar Cliffe Lodge, which employs him as a professional to grant him a leave of absence to compete in the British open championship. "That means we'll have to let the matter ride for the time being," he said, adding that he preferred not to make any further comment now.

KNOX BASKETBALL TEAM IS WELCOMED

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 15.—The Knox college basketball team which returned today from its second annual eastern invasion, during which it met Harvard, Dartmouth, the Navy, the Army, Williams and University of Vermont, was met at the station by a large delegation, students and townspeople.

The team was escorted to the college, where members of the team told of the trip, in which Knox won two games and was defeated in four by close margins.

UTAH GETS OFFER OF GAME WITH W. V.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 15.—University of Utah athletic authorities today had under consideration an offer from the University of West Virginia for a football game at Morgantown, W. Va., on next November 17. Acceptance is unlikely, it was stated, because Utah's schedule calls for a game with Colorado university on that date.

"RIP" COLLINS

one of yesterday down in the Texas League, the manager of the team would have let me go hunting or fishing until it was my turn to work again. Up here I am liable to be used as a relief pitcher today because of the good showing I made yesterday."

Several years in the majors has caused "Rip" to lose some of that nonchalant style, but lack of ambition is still his greatest fault.

VETERAN UMPIRE IS EXONERATED

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 15.—Ollie Chill, veteran American league umpire, was exonerated from all connection with the murder of Edward J. McGregor, 26, who was shot to death during a drunken brawl Saturday night in an apartment house, in an alleged confession made by George C. Roedel late today. Chill and Robert J. Burke, a local contractor, who with Roedel were found in the apartment, were released from custody, and Roedel will be charged with first degree murder.

The police say that Roedel admitted he shot McGregor after the latter had fired two shots at him. He said, according to the police, that he attempted to act as a peacemaker between McGregor and Chill and was pleading with McGregor to stop quarreling when McGregor took a revolver from a dresser and fired at him. The struggle which followed Roedel is alleged to have said, the gun fell to the floor and he picked it up and shot McGregor twice.

Chill, whose home was originally in Indianapolis, was one of the best umpires in the old Kitty league when Jacksonville was a member of that circuit in 1906. He afterward went to the American association and from there graduated to the American league where he is considered one of the organization's most capable umpires.

REDUCED JOCKEY CLUB CAPITAL STOCK

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—Reduction of the capital stock of the Kentucky Jockey club, which promotes the $50,000 Kentucky Derby every year at Churchill Downs and operates the Latonia horse racing track, was announced at a meeting of Jockey club stockholders here today. The original $1,000,000 preferred stock represented by the reduction has been called, it was said. The track at Lexington, Ky., formerly controlled by the jockey club, and founded by the Old Lexington association in 1828, was sold to a Lexington syndicate headed by T. C. Bradley, which will conduct races there this year.

Dates for Latonia and Churchill Downs will be sought by Jockey club officers of the state racing commission tomorrow. Date of the 1923 Kentucky derby has not been decided. The second Saturday in May traditional day for the classic this year is the date of the Preakness stakes, the annual Pimlico 3 year old event at Baltimore.

THREE EYE WILL ORGANIZE TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Organization of the Three Eye league will be perfected tomorrow night at meeting of the circuit committee. President Tearney announced tonight. Quincy, Ill., wants the franchise held by Moine and will be represented at the meeting. Moine is determined to retain it and has placed $2,000 with President Tearney as a guarantee to go thru the season.

Quincy also has posted a guarantee. The circuit committee is composed of Jack Ryan, of Peoria; John J. Cleary of Terre Haute, Ind., and President Tearney.

Basket Ball Tonight Yankee Five vs. Murrayville High, Liberty hall, 8 P. M.

WILL NOT PERMIT SARAZEN TO PLAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A tentative decision not to permit Gene Sarazen, American golf champion, a five or six weeks leave of absence to compete in the British open golf championship tournament was voted today by the directors of Briar Cliffe lodge, the Country club at Briar Cliffe manor, New York, by whom he is employed as a professional.

"It was the consensus," said a statement issued by the directors that "permission should be refused Sarazen for this purpose, but definite action withheld until his return from an exhibition tour he is making thru the west and south."

NEALE NOT TO BE WITH REDS

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 15.—Earle Neale, outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, in all probability will be used in a trade or sold outright, August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Baseball club, said today.

"I do not think we will keep Neale, altho no definite decision has been made," stated Mr. Herrmann. "We can spare him as we have an abundance of fine outfielders and we do not wish to stand in his way when it comes to a chance of advancement."

Neale has received several alluring offers, it was said.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

WHEAT PRICES
AVERAGED LOWER

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Altho an unexpected decrease of the United States visible supply total brought about something of a rally during the late trading in the wheat market today, prices averaged lower largely as a result of heavy world's shipments. The close was unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish to go down, with No. 1-12½ to $1.12½. Corn closed unchanged to 1½¢ lower, oats 1½¢ off to 1¢ advance, and provisions varying from 7½¢ decline to a rise of 5¢.

With world shipments of wheat last week greatly in excess of the amount for the preceding week and for the corresponding time last year and with Liverpool quotations declining in consequence, the wheat market here showed a sagging tendency until after midday. This tendency was emphasized by the fact that car lots receipts at the principal western markets aggregate 1,411 cars against 838 a year ago. Meanwhile, a majority of traders apparently were unable to decide for themselves whether clashing of European interests were to be continued at present as likely to bring about higher grain prices or the reverse.

Hearts in the wheat market urged that for the most part European countries were in no financial position to go to war and that warfare of a desultory kind would further restrict buying power. Drought conditions in important sections of the domestic winter wheat territory were un-relieved. Under such circumstances and with no new export business of consequence talked of the volume of trading here was small and the market easily influenced.

Corn and oats reflected the weakness of wheat, but rural offerings remained meager and other markets were persistently out-bidding Chicago.

In the provision market the effect of lower quotations on hogs was about counterbalanced by liberal export clearances.

PROHIBITION IS
SERMON THEME

Rev. A. P. Howells Speaks on Subject "The Earth Is Going
Dry." Says: Rum Running
Stories Are Wet Propaganda.

In keeping with the third anniversary of national prohibition, Rev. A. P. Howells, pastor of the First Baptist church spoke on Sunday in his church on the subject, "The Earth Is Going Dry."

The minister said in part: "The world is watching America's test of national prohibition. Judging from the daily press, we seem to be a nation of law violators. If the courts of justice have broken down, there may be some excuse for the Ku Klux Klan, the Vigilantes or the old fashioned 'Whi e Caps.' To violate the Volstead law is to encourage a reign of anarchy which will eventually trample the American Constitution under foot. Much of the much heralded 'rum running' law violation is liquor propaganda."

"Let us begin a little investigation right at home. What has three years of prohibition done for Illinois? Police records show that in Peoria during the last wet year, there were 1,760 arrests for drunkenness, while the first dry year, the number had dropped to 259. This is also true of the nearby cities of Alton and Belleville, the first reducing the number of arrests for drunkenness from 328 to 19, and the second from 97 to 28. Saturday night, 'pay day,' was always noted during the old days of the open saloon as the time for the weekly spree. After prohibition had arrived, police records in three cities were examined on Saturday, May 14, 1921. Bloomington arrests for drunkenness showed five, Decatur one and Rock Island none. The Associated Press asked the sheriffs of Illinois in February, 1921, if prohibition had decreased the number of prisoners in the county jails and all but four replied in the affirmative. In 1914 the Chicago South Side club reported that the back rooms of 445 saloons had contributed to the delinquency of 14,000 girls every twenty-four hours. Ten thousand missions to the House of Correction in 1918 in Chicago, was cut in two during the first year of national prohibition. Health records show that in July, 1916, in Chicago, there were 535 deaths from sun stroke, after the Health Department had warned drinkers to abstain during the heated period. During the same month in 1921, which was extremely hot the number of deaths from the same cause had dropped to 23. Chicago is reported to have the lowest death rate in its history, eleven per one thousand. The previous low death rate was in 1904 when it reached 13 per one thousand. This means a saving of 5,300 lives a year.

Savings Deposits Increase.
"In the financial realm, John Jay Abbott of the Continental and Commercial Bank voices the sentiment of other Chicago bankers, when he says: 'Since the date on which national prohibition went into effect, the savings deposits of this bank has increased approximately $10,000,000 or thirty per cent.' The old Washington Home for inebriates in Chicago, that has been engaged for sixty years in getting the drunkard sobered up, has been closed, but the Associated Press is authority for the statement that the institution will again be opened for business should light wines and beers return.

"Is public sentiment in favor of a dry earth? Some one has figured that in the recent straw ballot conducted by the Literary Digest, that if 11,000,000 ballots were cast as reported, that each ballot would cost at least five cents for postage, printing and counting. Thousands of readers of the magazine would now like to know two things—Who paid the bill of $550,000 and who received and counted the ballots. After all this heavy expense by some body, we find more 'Drys' in Congress than was ever known. Sweden has recently voted on a dry issue for the first time, last year and came very near carrying it. In wine producing France, the 'Wets' and the 'Drys' have entered upon their initial stages. While America is saying, 'hush' about the Turks, Mohammedans and Mohammedans in Germany conducted a beer prohibition referendum in the industrial precinct of Bielefeld and out of 14,065 qualified voters, 12,523 voted dry. Recently there was held in the city of Toronto, Canada, the International Convention of the World League Against Alcoholism. In the great convention hall there was registered delegates from sixty three nations on six continents. The prophecy of the great seer on the Isle of Patmos is coming true. 'There shall be no more sea.' The earth is going dry."

INVESTIGATES CITY
PLAN COMMISSION

President Rammelkamp Will Call
Meeting of Local Committee to Hear Address by Myron Howard West.

President C. E. Rammelkamp has returned from Chicago after an investigation of the Chicago City Plan commission and hopes to arrange a meeting on Wednesday evening of this week with the Jacksonville City Plan commission. Myron Howard West of the American Park Builders association, with headquarters in Chicago, is expected in the city and will make an address before the local plan commission members at the Wednesday evening meeting.

Mr. West is one of the foremost men in this line of work in the United States and is in charge of the survey work of the Springfield City Plan commission. He was also engineer on the Decatur City Plan commission. Mr. West has signified his willingness to come to Jacksonville and confer with the local city plan commission and it is thought that a successful meeting can be arranged for Wednesday evening.

The Jacksonville City Plan commission has been invited by the Springfield Art association to visit Springfield and inspect the display of zoning plans now on exhibit there. On each Sunday afternoon during the remainder of January, a lecture will be given in Springfield on city planning and zoning. The lectures will be given at the Springfield Art association headquarters and Mrs. Howard Wilson, president of the organization has extended an invitation to the members of the local city plan commission to attend these lectures. It is probable that a number of the members of the commission will take advantage of the invitation and go to Springfield to hear one of these lectures.

SAVED BY FLASH OF GOLD TEETH

MRS. YEVNIGH YACOUBIAN, "WOMAN OF MYSTERY." AND HER SON, WHO LIVES WERE SAVED BY A FLASH OF HER GOLD TEETH.

By NEA Service.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—Thanks to her four gold teeth, which seem to have given her a charmed life, a woman here is happily reunited with her four children after terrifying experiences in the Near East.

This "Woman of Mystery," as the Turks called her, is Mrs. Yevnigh Yacoubian.

She was living in the Armenian town of Caesarea when the Turks came. Her husband was shot, her boy was taken from her and she was about to be carried off by an officer when she flashed her teeth.

"The effect," says Mrs. Yacoubian, "was almost unbelievable. The Turk dropped his gun and stared at me. The life of my boy was spared, and I was saved."

"In Thrace the possession of gold teeth reflects something almost supernatural."

Picked Up By Arabs.
"After two weeks' imprisonment, we were started on a march to the Arabian desert 1,800 miles away."

"On the way I contracted typhus. I fell in a faint on the road. The soldiers thought I had died."

"But I managed to crawl along the road until I reached the edge of the desert, eating nuts, the bark of trees and licking the moist blades of grass. A band of roving Arabs found me. They had already learned of the 'mystery woman' who had braved the Turkish officer. They recognized me by the gold teeth."

"They took me to some Armenians in the nearby country. 'Then I learned the children had been taken to Konia, to a Near East Relief orphanage. Reunited we luckily caught the last train to leave the interior of Thrace before the Turks began their wholesale deportation."

"In three days we reached Constantinople. On the way we were stopped twice by Turkish soldiers, but everywhere, it seemed, the Turks had heard the story of Caesarea. When they saw my gold teeth they refrained from interfering with me."

"These teeth may not be what you Americans call the 'right style,' but they have meant life and happiness to me."

MISS ROSS TALKS TO ENTHUSIASTS.

Miss Ross, head nurse of the New Home Sanitarium honored the Allen C. E. league with her presence last evening and gave an interesting talk.

In addition to other things she said: "The future of our people depends upon ourselves. Fate is no respecter of persons. To all who are prepared for life's work, opportunity knocks. It behooves all to prepare and take advantage of the opportunities we have. To him that hath, shall be given."

Decide as early in life as possible what you intend to be then devote your whole life learning more about your work. The world today is looking for efficiency and will help you to climb irrespective of race or creed.

Cultivate cheerfulness and go after what you want in the right spirit and you will get it. Don't get down in the heel. The world will recognize you for what you are. Fate is only cruel to the quitter.
